

Re: The fair use of public airways with regard to Sinclair Broadcasting's announcement of their plan to show of a one-sided anti-Kerry political essay.

The citizen's airwaves should be reserved to serve the public good, not as a vehicle for privately held political opinions by media "owners". This political season there is a panopoly of political documentaries. Viewing them at theatres and/or purchasing them is a private choice. Using the public airways to promote anti-Kerry sentiment just before a heated national election is partisan and should not be allowed unless there is a fair, accurate, and balanced representation of each candidate. Time to re-introduce regulation with regard to fairness and accuracy in broadcasting?

Thank you.
